THE CATHEDRAL SCHOOL ENSEMBLES 06th MAY, 2023 | 4:00pm

As they have done for many years on the first weekend in May, The Cathedral School showcases the talent of their music program in a wonderful performance from their ensembles. Promising to be a delightful afternoon's entertainment, it is also an opportunity for the students to demonstrate the many hours of practice they have put in to achieve such an engaging performance.

Ingredients

Method

Pastry

- 125g plain flour
- Pinch of salt
- 25g cold butter, diced
- 25g lard
- 2 tablespoons milk
- Or 1 x 250g block of ready-made shortcrust pastry

Filling

- 125ml milk
- 175ml double cream
- 2 medium eggs
- 1 tablespoon chopped fresh tarragon
- Salt and pepper
- 100g grated cheddar cheese,
- 180g cooked spinach, lightly chopped

1. To make the pastry...

- Sieve the flour and salt into a bowl; add the fats and rub the mixture together using your finger tips until you get a sandy, breadcrumb like texture.
- Add the milk a little at a time and bring the ingredients together into a dough.
- Cover and allow to rest in the fridge for 30-45 minutes

2. Lightly flour the work surface and roll out the pastry to a circle a little larger than the top of the tin and approximately 5mm thick.

3. Line the tin with the pastry, taking care not to have any holes or the mixture could leak. Cover and rest for a further 30 minutes in the fridge.

4. Preheat the oven to 190°C.

5. Line the pastry case with greaseproof paper, add baking beans and bake blind for 15 minutes, before removing the greaseproof paper and baking beans.

6. Reduce the oven temperature to 160°C.

7. Beat together the milk, cream, eggs, herbs and seasoning.

8. Scatter 1/2 of the grated cheese in the blind-baked base, top with the chopped spinach and beans and herbs, then pour over the liquid mixture.

9. If required gently give the mixture a delicate stir to ensure the filling is evenly dispersed but be careful not to damage the pastry case.

10. Sprinkle over the remaining cheese. Place into the oven and bake for 20-25 minutes until set and lightly golden.

Pentecost

The Christian calendar celebrates the resurrection on the 50th day after Easter. This is closely connected with the feast of the Passover. This major feast is one of rejoicing, for the descent of the Paraclete in tongues of fire that strengthened the faith and courage of the Apostles and insured the future of Christianity. As a Christian feast, it dates back to the first century. In early times catechumens in their white robes were baptized on this day; hence our English name of Whitsunday.

*From “The Last Chronicle of Barset”
by Anthony Trollope*

“They had been working all day at the decorations of the church, and they were now looking round them at the result of their handiwork. To an eye unused to the gloom the place would have been nearly dark; but they could see every corner turned by the ivy sprigs, and every line on which the holly-leaves were shining.

“And the greeneries of the winter had not been stuck up in the old-fashioned, idle way, a bough just fastened up here and a twig inserted there; but everything had been done with some meaning, with some thought towards the original architecture of the building.”

MEET OUR NEW WARDEN - PHILIP ALLNUTT

Philip moved to Magnetic Island 3 years ago, having been an annual visitor there from Canberra since 1997. He attends St Margaret's on Saturdays at 5pm (afternoon tea from 4.30pm - join us for a service sometime!). As a Lay Minister, he takes an Evening Prayer service at St Margaret's once a month (St Margaret's thanks Fr Kenneth for travelling over for the other weeks).

He also attends St James for the monthly Evensong and other occasional services and is a volunteer guide at St James on Friday mornings (he started doing this as a duty and now finds it's a privilege - he recommends giving it a go!).

Before moving, Philip attended St John's Canberra, where he was on Parish Council and also worked as Parish Administrator after retiring from the public service.

*a number of these vessels were long term or return vessels, changing berths up to three times.

Extracts from - Gibson-Wilde, Dorothy Mary (1982). Gateway to a golden land: Townsville to 1884.

A Thesis on the development of Townsville during the first twenty years of settlement.

By the end of 1866 the town had many of the amenities of longer-settled centres, but it still lacked a permanent policeman. A lockup and police station were erected near the corner of King Street actually on the alignment of Flinders Street, but estimates do not show an appointment of a police officer to Townsville.

There was no clergyman either, Church services were conducted in the Court House by R.W. Irving and James Gordon who was known irreverently as 'The Lord Bishop'. Gordon performed marriages and also conducted funeral services. The Reverend Searle and Father McGinty visited occasionally from Bowen to conduct services for Anglicans and Catholics respectively, but Presbyterians who were strongly represented in the tiny community had to attend Church of England services which they did not enjoy. Nevertheless, the township had assumed a more settled and permanent appearance.

1870 - The township still had no church although both Catholic and Church of England denominations owned blocks of land. Church of England minister, the Rev. Adams arrived in 1870, conducted services in the Court House; it was there that Bishop Tuffnell held the first Anglican confirmation service in the township on 19 November 1870. The silver communion service used at this service was donated to the parish of St James by the Bishop of Sydney.

By 1884, there were seven churches with eleven ministers of religion,<sup>117</sup> and the Anglican diocese of North Queensland had been created, with Bishop Stanton as the first Bishop of North Queensland. The Church of England had erected the first church in Townsville, St James, in 1871. By 1884, two more Anglican churches were established: St Peters, West End, and St Johns, South Townsville. The second church to be erected was the Catholic Church of St Joseph, erected on the Strand about 1872, a Congregational Church was opened in Denham Street by November. A Methodist church was the fourth to open in 1877, after the arrival of the Rev. William.

By late 1883, however, it was apparent that the areas in West End and Belgian Gardens would soon be developed, and it was in Belgian Gardens in 1883 that Bishop Stanton selected a site for the future Bishopsbourne.

The remaining churches were all of timber and tin'. The earliest of these, the St James Church of England, continued as the seat of the Bishop of North Queensland, though a movement had started to erect a Cathedral. Originally built in 1871 by Meldrum and Driscoll, it had been a very plain gable-roofed structure set on low blocks, with a side entrance porch, topped with a small and somewhat incongruous tower at the front. Over the years it was extended: the chancel was lengthened in 1880 to accommodate the choir, and north and south aisles were added in 1883.<sup>86</sup> These extensions were added in a piecemeal fashion which resulted in an unattractive building, "a wretched apology for a cathedral that seems to focus all the heat for miles around".
